Product Description

68 feeders 250k cph dual arm high speed pick and place mounter for flexible strip

Product introduction

T9 is different from other high-speed machines. It is only for 250 * flexible strips of any length

T9 is an ultra-high speed machine. Compared with t7s, T9 has higher production capacity, up to 250000cph per hour. The main difference is that the number of heads is different. T7s has only 34 heads, while T9 has 68 heads, resulting in different production capacity. Its PCB clamping method is also different from other high-speed machines. It adopts vacuum adsorption, cylinder splint and adjustable track width. Soft light strip - as the name suggests: it is made of software, and the PCB board itself is very thin. If it is not fixed, the PCB board will move. This affects the mounting.
